

United Hearts Islamic Center

of North San Diego County

WHAT IS IT?

United Hearts Islamic Center is an independent, non-profit religious organization that serves the needs of the Muslim community of North San Diego County and its surrounding areas.

United Hearts Islamic Center is a place where we can practice the religion of Islam in accordance with the teachings of The Holy Quran and Sunnah and where various ideas and thoughts about religion and culture can be shared, discussed, and debated.

The Muslims in the North San Diego County form a multi-cultural, multi-ethnic, and multilingual community. This diverse community is united by the common needs, challenges, and social aspirations. There is a need for a catalyst for community empowerment and community development and United Hearts Islamic Center is committed to be that place that inspires, attracts, and serves as a positive force for change.
